IBM Set For Trial At Library

The new IBM Circulation System at Morris Library will have a trial run beginning May 4, according to Ferris S. Randall, acting librarian.

The trial run will be for two hours a day and will last for an indefinite period.

Purpose of the trial run is to get both the students of the University and the library staff acquainted with the operation of the new system. Randall said the staff "will be all thumbs for a while." He asked the library users to be patient for the trial period.

Anyone who borrows books during the trial periods must have an ID card with him. It will not be necessary to fill out a call card with the new system.

The new IBM Circulation System is the only one of its kind in the country and is designed to speed up the borrowing of books.

Baptists Start on Final Plans For $871,000 Foundation

Property Swap With SIU Reaches Concluding Stage

Preparation of final plans for a new $871,000 Baptist Foundation building complex at SIU will be started immediately.

Developments this week have included approval of the preliminary plans by the Board of Directors of the Illinois State Baptist Association, and exchange of deeds between the association and SIU.

When the transaction is complete, SIU will receive the present Baptist Foundation building at the corner of Grand Avenue and Thompson Street, and the Baptist-owned Johnson Hall dormitory west of the Wham Education Building.

In return, the Baptist Association will receive $355,000 and a 1.7-acre tract of University-owned land located in a triangle immediately northwest of University School.

The deeds exchanged this week were those to the tract, and Johnson Hall, according to John S. Rendleman, SIU general counsel.

The transfer of title to the Baptist Foundation building is still pending, Rendleman said. This involves a legal action to "quiet title" to the property, he continued. At stake is a condition of the grant of the property to the Baptist Association. The condition is that it be used for religious purposes, Rendleman said.

The legal action to quiet title is currently in process in Jackson County Circuit Court, Rendleman added. A hearing was conducted on March 12, and he said he considers the action a formality.

The cash involved in the transfer has not yet been paid, Rendleman said. The funds are being sought from the Illinois Building Authority. "We expect to have the funds covering the Johnson Hall transfer within a week or ten days," Rendleman said.

SIU is also purchasing a Baptist-owned 22.3-acre tract in the center of the Edwardsville campus, Rendleman said.

The Baptist Association board met in Carbondale this week and approved both the preliminary plans for the new Baptist Foundation building, and the sale of the Edwardsville property, according to A.C. Queen, director of Baptist Student Ministries for Illinois.

The Baptist Foundation Student Center was constructed in 1940, and Johnson Hall, a girls' dormitory, in 1949.

The Baptist board authorized the architects, C.R. Miller & Sons of Decatur, to start immediately on the final

Election Wednesday

Off-Campus Office Seekers Have Till Saturday to File

Students interested in seeking office on the Off-Campus Presidents' Council have until Saturday to file their applications, according to Anita Kuo, supervisor of Off-Campus Housing.

Offices to be filled in the election next Wednesday include a president and vice president of the council as well as representatives of eight geographic areas.

Petitions are still available at the Housing Office and the University Center information desk. Twenty-five signatures are needed on each petition for a candidate to qualify. The petitions must be turned in by Saturday at either the Housing Office or the Center.

The election is being held as a part of the reorganization of the Off-Campus Presidents' Council, Mrs. Kuo explained. All students living off campus will be permitted to vote for the president and vice president of the council.

However, the entire off-campus community has been divided into eight sections and each of these sections will vote on its individual representative to the Council, Mrs. Kuo explained.

Polls will be located in the University Center, Wham Education Building and in front of Old Main. In addition, a mobile poll will tour the off-campus area during the day stopping frequently to permit students to vote.

According to Mrs. Kuo, during the fall eight more area representatives will be elected to work with those elected on Wednesday.

Wildcat Walkout Halts Building At Edwardsville

According to the Associated Press, a wildcat walkout of laborers and hodcarriers has brought work to a virtual standstill for the third day on the Edwardsville campus of SIU.

Business agent, Charles Steward, of Laborers-Hod Carriers Local 179 said the union had tried to get the men back to work but was unsuccessful.

He said the main complaints are concerning working conditions and a jurisdictional quarrel over who should erect outside wall panels.

The 65 men involved are employed by the Fruin-Colton Construction Co. of St. Louis, prime contractor for three buildings under construction on the campus.

No picket line has ever been set up but other unions were unable to work because they couldn't obtain materials handled by the laborers.

Five faculty members will be chosen from the applications and the final voting will be on May 6 with the campus elections.

The announcement of the "Most Valuable Faculty Member" will be made during the Spring Festival Assembly, which will be held at 10 a.m. May 7, in McAndrew Stadium.

Associated Press News Roundup

Rail Dispute Ended With a Compromise

WASHINGTON--The threatened nationwide rail strike was averted by an agreement which in effect gave union members financial gains in exchange for letting the railroads reduce employment.

President Johnson, obviously elated, went before television cameras Wednesday evening to announce settlement of the dispute which had gone unresolved for more than four years.

The agreement was reached with little more than two days remaining before the threatened strike was scheduled.

Johnson said the settlement averted a strike that would have slashed national production 13 per cent--far greater than any recession since World War II--and would have sent prices spiraling.

President Offers Briefings For GOP on Foreign Policy

WASHINGTON -- President Johnson said Thursday he would like to confer personally with Republican presidential aspirants so they could chart a positive course for discussing foreign policy problems.

Johnson, at a news conference in the rose garden outside his office, announced that foreign policy intelligence briefings would be offered to seven presidential aspirants--including Democratic Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama.

He said Henry Cabot Lodge, ambassador to South Viet Nam, and a potential GOP nominee, already gets the information.

In addition to Wallace, the briefings will be offered to Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York; Sen. Barry Goldwater; Harold Stassen; former Vice President Richard M. Nixon; Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania, and Sen. Margaret Chase Smith. All are potential Republican nominees.

Johnson said he would like to have a relationship with the Republican presidential nominee like the one he had with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower when Johnson was Senate Democratic leader.

He said he and Eisenhower used to discuss foreign policy matters and reach understandings on the way to debate them publicly.

The information to be offered, Johnson said, would include background material and motivating reasons for the administration's foreign policy steps.

Goldwater Says No

WASHINGTON--Sen. Barry Goldwater bluntly rejected President Johnson's offer to provide intelligence briefings on foreign affairs to candidates for the Republican presidential nomination.

Stratton Denies Tax Charge

CHICAGO--Former Gov. William G. Stratton pleaded innocent Thursday to a federal indictment charging him with a $46,676 personal income tax evasion.

The onetime Illinois Republican leader, now a country squire on his gentleman's farm near Springfield, appeared in U.S. District Court on an indictment made public the day after the Illinois primary election April 14.

A grand jury returned the bill the preceding week but it was suppressed so as not to affect the primary.

Stratton waived reading of the indictment accusing him of failure to report $93,595 in income during his second four-year term as governor, 1957-1960, and evading the tax on it.

Johnson to Tour Appalachia Today

WASHINGTON-- President Johnson will tour the depressed Appalachian area today, he announced at a news conference Thursday.

Johnson said the governors of the Appalachian states have been invited to meet with him at Huntington, W. Va.

He said he also will make stops in Pittsburgh; South Bend, Ind., and Inez and Paintsville, Ky.

Johnson said he will be accompanied by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz; Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges; Secretary of Welfare and Anthony J. Celebrezze, and Undersecretary of Commerce Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr.

Indiana Statehouse Has Bomb Threat

INDIANAPOLIS--A telephone bomb threat forced evacuation of the Indiana Statehouse Thursday and triggered a frantic 90-minute search by a swarm of police, but there was no explosion.

As the explosion time set by the anonymous caller passed, State Police Supt. George A. Evert said:

"It was probably a crank call, but you just don't take any chances."

Petitions Support Prayer Amendment

WASHINGTON--The House Judiciary Committee was deluged Thursday with petitions and arguments supporting a constitutional amendment to permit prayers in public schools.

Petitions with 136,000 signatures from Ohio, Kentucky and California were presented by Reps. Louis C. Wyman, R-N.H., and Craig Hosmer, R-Calif.

They and several other members of Congress testified in favor of overturning the Supreme Court's decisions banning official school prayer and required Bible reading in class.

Nasty, nasty...

Dear People Connected With ka:

Your contribution to college journalism is getting more and more trite. The majority of progressive high school publications are abandoning the "Gossip Column" as grade school level trivia. If your page printed interesting news about various students, it still would be unable to give fair coverage to the student body. SIU has 12,503 students in Carbondale!!!

Besides your truly sickening and un-journalistic writing style, your entire purpose is not that of a newspaper. Your poetry and clever college fiction belong in a magazine---not a good magazine, mind you, but some type of monthly or quarterly. If you wish to be "arty" and contribute your art to the student body, why don't you publish a monthly SIU "arty" magazine which could be purchased by interested parties for a quarter or a dime?

If you wish to be the Voice of the Students, please print this, because I am not alone in my feelings. Also, I would be interested in knowing whether or not you acknowledge this contribution of mine. And then, think it over before continuing your publication next Fall. Perhaps, with more time, you could polish up your fiction and poetry and really have something to offer the students.

Yours sincerely,
Dianne Shullaw

Editor's Note: STOP!

The letters from Miss Adams and Miss Shullaw prove that although we have stated our purpose and objectives at least four different ways, we have not yet been understood. We will try once more:

1. ka is an independent, student - operated, non-journalism, non - Student Council affiliated, OPEN page of EXPRESSION.

2. ka has NO SET STAFF except its two editors. We print whatever copy we have received from ANY contributors during the week, providing the submitted material is in good taste.

3. ka does NOT solicit articles, reviews, fiction, poetry, or essays. We do OCCASIONALLY suggest topics; however, all printed material has been voluntarily submitted.

4. ka is attempting to include a variety of style and content which CONSCIOUSLY, INTENTIONALLY goes beyond the scope of journalistic "standards."

5. ka is NOT a NEWSpaper in that we do NOT print news. This function, the printing of news, is adequately handled by The Daily Egyptian.

Letters to Ka

Dear ka:

I'll rise to your bait. After reading several articles in ka concerning the "artsy-crafts," generally presenting a stereotype far removed from any readily recognizable reality, I can't bear to see our future decision-makers so deceived.

Boards, run-over shoes, etc., while not necessarily indicating any depth of thought, intellect, or creativity, very often do. While they are often rebellion against the mores of a society seen as overly concerned with outward appearance, such dress is more often a lack of money combined with a very real lack of concern--time can be better spent than in keeping up on style, and comfort is comfort.

As a transfer student, I have come to be very impressed by the level of the students who would fall into the "artsy-craft" category. Many have a social concern rarely found in our country, and are real students in the area of their concern--the Peace Movement, civil rights, economics, various underdeveloped regions, to mention a few. They are writing books, making films, doing research; the art department is getting a national reputation due to the very good work many of the students are doing (bearded, ear-ringed, barefoot students); discussions often run from philosophy of education to foreign aid to the movement to Renaissance art....

I would advise you to get somewhat better observers to write your articles on the "different" groups. Setting forth a stereotype that is so obviously incomplete, if not outrightly false, defeats any purpose. Those who might be put in the stereotype won't rise to the bait--it's really somewhat degrading to have to reply to an image that doesn't exist. OK?

Sincerely,

Jane Adams

Dear Senator Parker:

Dear ka:

Some time ago, the Senator for the College of Communications (Dan Parker) requested letters from his constituents. This query, however belated, is in response to that request. There was a proposal put forth several terms ago in favor of an "all student" radio station, a station supplementary to and not in competition with the present FM station, WSIU. What happened to that proposal? Was it, like too many worthwhile ideas, swallowed up by the administration? While you are chewing on that question, here is another: why is WSIU-TV kept from broadcasting our football games LIVE??? In the past, the television station has not been able to do any more than re-broadcast a few of the games several days after they have been played. How come?

Your constituent,

Robert Bertulla

The Posse Follows The Deputy

Dear Ka:

Since your comment on my lecture is entitled "Where Was The Deputy?" I assume the answer is up to me. The reason why Creative Insights asked me to speak on this play is the fact that The Deputy presents a deeply controversial public issue. Creative Insights clearly understood and approved of my dealing with the moral issue involved and not merely with an opinion on how well the play was constructed or whether it should have been directed, designed or acted by somebody else. I doubt whether the play has been picketed because pickets don't like the play structure, the scene designs or the casting.

There is reason why a number of newspaper editorials have noted a parallel between the events of The Deputy and of the murder at Kew Gardens, New York, where so many witnesses of the killing did not want to "get involved." The arguments over the play center on whether Pope Pius XII was or was not remiss in his duty as the proclaimed vicar of Christ. This question cannot be settled if the murder of six million people continues to be regarded as nothing more than a statistic. It is unfortunately true that most of us can be far more affected by the details of the killing of one person than by any amount of generalized data on the murder of six million. In my lecture I tried to bring to the audience a more vivid understanding, in human terms, of what the Nazi extermination program was like. I believe the audience as a whole was deeply stirred without at the same time being made to feel helpless. There are some people who don't want to "get involved" with the basic issue of the play; they want only "drama criticism." But, I am not at all convinced that that sort of reaction is typical of all young, thoughtful people at this University. I am glad your correspondent--whoever he or she may be--felt that "the lecture on concentration camps was in itself very instructive"--- casual as this sounds.

Ahem, again...

Again, the editors of ka feel the need to defend a reviewer. Somewhere along the way, Mr. Gorelik missed the entire point of the review. If the Creative Insights program had truly been aimed at a discussion of the moral issue of the play, it would not have been so subject to criticism; however, by no stretching of definition can a lecture on the specifics of the management of concentration camps (complete with slides) be considered dealing with the moral issue of the play, which is: THE POPE SHOULD HAVE INTERVENED. Mr. Gorelik's moral issue is, unfortunately, not the correct one. He began his lecture very well by using the recent Kew Gardens murder as a case in point. However, here again, the moral issue is not "how murder is committed" but, rather, OTHERS SHOULD HAVE INTERVENED. The reviewer believes that Mr. Gorelik should have stuck to Mr. Hochhuth's definition of the moral issue since Mr. Hochhuth wrote the play.

A great many people who missed the talk have been asking whether they can hear the tape recording. I am therefore planning to run the tape at some convenient time in the near future. I shall be glad to notify anyone who writes me care of the Department of the Theatre.

Cordially,
Mordecai Gorelik

On April 16th your letter appeared in The Egyptian. You traveled about the Christy Minstrels' performance, described the audience reception, and commented on the packed auditorium. Then you complained that no review was written, ka has been established for just such reasons. Instead of writing a letter to The Egyptian asking someone else to take on the responsibility of reviewing, wouldn't it have been as easy for you to expand your comments and submit your review?

As a college student, as a member of Southern Illinois University, as a part of the audience, as a thinking human being, YOU, Miss Campbell, were entitled to express your opinion in ka.

To HDP of LA &amp; S

by Robert Ronr

Far be it from me to return a slap in the face with a kick in the shin, but the desire to do it is one constant in my thinking substance that will not be shaken. Fortunately, the will restrains a malevolent foot, and talking about the source of irritation becomes the recommended thing to do.

Our Dean of LA & S is one of those people who believes that SIU students should carry the burden of blame for the refusal by the Phi Beta Kappa Society to establish a chapter here. And, in line with the American Way, there is a document on the East Coast within the shadow of the Washington Monument that guarantees our Dean the right to speak out and place the responsibility for no PBK Chapter anywhere he chooses. That document, by its venerable nature, transfers a note of worth onto the words at the instant of their being spoken, and a tint of authority is assured.

But, alas! closer scrutiny reveals an old truth again proved, that high places trotter when reason is not present to sustain them. Our Dean blames students for their lack of interest and cites the

Dear Ka:

My sincere appreciation and congratulations go to Gene Nelson for the article "Failable Faust" (April 10) in answer to the unfair attack made on Lentz Hall. Every word of Mr. Nelson's answer is true. I know; I lived there for six quarters and I still work there, although I live off campus now. I have seen a lot of thievery in the dining rooms. I have also listened to a lot of unnecessary sarcasm and cutting remarks made by students to the workers. Where are the (adult) college students' manners?

I also would like to give my support to John Huck's idea on textbook returns. Something definitely should be done about students being charged or fined for books which have been returned. The situation seems to be getting out of hand.

And, by the way, I saw a girl walking across campus last week, bouncing a little rubber ball. Keep your eyes open, Prince, you may find the girl you're looking for yet! Good Luck, small gathering at the tea as proof. It seems that only three or four students showed up that day when the two (yes, just two) PBK representatives invited everyone to come to tea and show interest.
Jessie Mae Wood

In the cases where poor student motivation and interest is high (and it is somewhat true that Southern has its share of poorly motivated students) the reasonable place to look for help is in the men who, presumably, have that needed motivation and who are in positions where right action can make enthusiasm communicable.

So the emphasis on responsibility for excellence in the academics shifts from follower to leader, from student to administrator. Phi Beta Kappa belongs at SIU, but misplaced blame for its absence does not.

There is a pervading philosophy of education in the '60's that proper learning circumstances can make over a hayseed. There is no doubt that arousing the interest enters somewhere in the transfiguration. If General Studies seeks interdisciplinary teachers who excite thought, then it is logical to suppose that interdisciplinary people are needed to run the General Studies program.

In any matter where no interest can be summoned and the blame is assigned to the receptive group (in our case, the students,) the demonstrated absence of interest lies in the person or persons who did the blaming. These people have failed to show interest in leadership by being too concerned over the book-keeping instead of the teaching, by being too occupied over the act of decision-making rather than studying the full choice of alternatives, and by being quite sure of the system in their respective offices, but very unaware of what is happening in the office above or below.

Possibly these criticisms are against the nature of a bureaucracy, but I doubt it. It is more exact to say that these criticisms are against the failures, and that these failures are in the nature of indifferent men who by patronage get where they are and who by their bland presence do what they do.

BOB BERNSTEIN

A College-Type Stengel

Development of Rookies, Pitchers Is A be Martin's Key to Success

In 26 years of coaching at Southern, Glenn (Abe) Martin can be considered somewhat of a Casey Stengel of college baseball.

Although Martin is not as old as Casey and does not have the questionable distinction of managing the amazing New York Mets, Martin has had many surprises.

Few of the pleasantries, however, have been nicer than the development of two rookie infielders and a pitching combination that have guided the Salukis to seven straight victories this spring.

Concerned with the left side of his infield after losing last year's MVP, Jerry Qualls, to the Detroit Tiger farm system and switching veteran Gib Snyder to second base, Martin installed Bob Bernstein at third and named Terry Lynn Southern's number one shortstop. Neither player has been out of the starting lineup since and it is doubtful if any of them will be.

Bernstein, a sophomore from Chicago where he won the city batting championship in 1962 while playing for Lane Tech, is currently Southern's leading bat with a .419 mark. Lynn, an Edwardsville sophomore, is number three in the hitting list with a .295 average.

Dominating the mound chores have been righthanders Johnny Hotz and Gene Vincent and there's little doubt that they will be Southern's starters tomorrow when the Salukis are scheduled to host Cincinnati in a doubleheader at Murphysboro's Riverside Park at 1 p.m.

The Bearcats have 10 of 17 lettermen returning, including two-time Missouri Valley Conference choice Larry Elasser at first base and may be a much stronger threat than a year ago when the Salukis gained overwhelming 25-6 and 6-1 victories.

Golfers to Meet Evansville, St. Louis in Double Header

SIU's undefeated golf team, rained out in an attempt to extend its current winning streak Monday, returns to the fairways today for a triangular meet with St. Louis University and Evansville College.

Coach Lynn Holder's Saluki golfers, 4-0 in dual match competition this season, will tee off at 10 a.m. at the Crab Orchard Golf course.

Southern, whose match with Evansville Monday was cancelled because of rain, will face its stiffest test of the young season today in the St. Louis Billikins. The Billikins, one of the best collegiate golf teams in the Midwest, feature a number of talented golfers and a fancy 6-0 dual match record.

The Purple Aces of Evansville, on the other hand, show a poor 1-3 season's record and are not expected to cause the Salukis much trouble.

Heading today's Saluki lineup once again is veteran ace Gene Carello. Carello, a West Frankfort senior, who owns a sparkling 4-0 dual match record this year, fired a hot 72 for 18 holes against Washington University last week and is expected to lead the Saluki attack against today's opponents.

Quadrangular Meet

Saluki Net Squad to Try For 9-0 Mark in Kansas

Southern's tennis team, unbeaten in its first six matches, will try to add three more victims to its list this weekend when the Salukis play in a quadrangular meet at Kansas City, Mo.

Coach Carl Sexton's squad, which has shut out Cincinnati, Houston, Iowa and Western Michigan while beating Rice 5-2 and Northwestern 5-4, will face Oklahoma State, Iowa State and Wheaton in the meet.

Heading the Saluki roster are the Sprengelmeyer brothers, Bob and Roy, who have picked up this year right where they left off at the end of last season.

Bob has won six in a row this season playing in the number three position. He was undefeated in 18 matches last year. Roy, the number four player, has also chalked up six in a row following a 17-1 mark last year.

Sophomore Al Pena of Bogota, Colombia, is also unbeaten this season. Besides a 6-0 record in singles competition, Pena has teamed with sophomore Thad Ferguson of Blue Island to post a perfect 4-0 mark in doubles play.

The Salukis toughest competition at Kansas City could come from little Wheaton College. The Crusaders have seven lettermen back from last year's squad which finished 9-7. Their record is deceiving, however, since the Crusaders won their last six matches and placed third in the NCAA college-division meet.

The Crusaders are led by Dennis Bennema, who was 14-2 last year. The senior southpaw was named to the number five spot on the 1963 college-division All-American team.

Southern met all three teams last year blanking Iowa State and Wheaton while topping Oklahoma State 8-1.

plans for the new complex. It will triple the Foundation's present dormitory facilities and will provide improved quarters for the foundation and the Baptist College of Bible. The complex will include a chapel, library, office space, classrooms, conference rooms, cafeteria, and large all-purpose banquet-recreation hall.

No definite starting time for construction has been decided yet, Queen said.

According to previously announced plans, the new dormitory facilities in the complex will accommodate 300 students.

Under the transfer agreement, the Baptist Foundation will continue to occupy both the foundation building and Johnson Hall until September, 1965, or until such time as the new structure is completed and ready for occupancy, Renselman and Queen said.

Practice Scheduled For Girls' Softball

Practice for the Women's Recreation Association softball team is being held from 4 to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. All girls are encouraged to play, but it is not necessary to participate every afternoon. Those with limited time can come out at their convenience.

The official season for the girls gets underway Monday. The season will include trips to Alton to play the SIU branch there and to Normal for a sectional sportsday.
